

Helibrace Wall Brace System

The Helibrace™ Wall Brace System, exclusively offered by Helitech, provides immediate superior support for bowing, buckling, tilting, and shifting Foundation Walls.

What is it?

The Helibrace™ is a structural beam support solution for both load bearing and non-load bearing basement foundation walls.

Problem Solved

Moisture causes clay soil to expand and puts extensive pressure on residential foundations. However, hydrostatic forces can be stopped for good with Helitech's Helibrace Wall Brace System.

As basement walls crack and shift inward due to poor drainage and pressure, the value of the home must be protected. The Helibrace can be installed without any messy excavation or digging on the outside and zero concrete removal on the inside. Most foundations can be structurally repaired and stabilized in as little as one day with the Helibrace.

Benefits

American Proud

The Helibrace was designed and is made in the Midwest with American steel. With that, it is engineered and load tested specific to the unique soil conditions of the Midwest to withstand the forces of nature on residential foundations.

No Mess Installation

No mess, interior installation with zero excavation or digging, which means most installations can be completed in a single day. Additionally, control your schedule by eliminating all weather delays. No coring of holes or concrete removal required.

Strategic Design

Distributes and manages the earth's horizontal forces uniformly. Tightening overtime can often result in improvement. Super duty beams custom fit to foundation walls. Powder coated to protect all steel components. Tested and trusted to outperform all other wall brace options.
